The Arizona Department of Health Services currently cannot test birds for influenza (bird flu). The USDA Wildlife Services and Arizona Game & Fish Department are doing some avian influenza surveillance in wetland birds (ducks, geese, shorebirds) and raptors (hawks, owls, eagles). This spring, the public can report ill or dead wetland birds or raptors found near any lake in Arizona by calling the toll-free bird monitoring hotline number at 1-877-97-AVIAN (1-877-972-8426) or by logging onto www.azgfd.gov/aj and filling out the online form.
